Clinical supervision for BSN students:

L 2 -- skills lab weekly at HSC Interprofessional Simulation Center on campus and virtual simulation, Spring term 2021

L 2 -- COVID Vaccination clinics at Acoma Laguna Canoncito (ACL) site March 6 and April 7, 2021.

L 2 -- COVID Vaccination clinics at UNM The PIT March 19

L 2 -- COVID Vaccination clinic First Nations Clinic/Indian Pueblo Cultural Center site March 20 and April 17

L 4 and L 5 --- COVID Vaccination clinics December 2020 and January 2021 UNMH

L 4 ---Care Calls Initiative with NM Department of Aging and Long Term Care Services, weekly Fall 2020 and Spring 2021

L 4 -- SHAC COVID outreach calls to UNM students, 7 days/week; Spring 2021

L 4 -- NM DOH and HSC Office of Community Health COVID Vaccine Registration initiative, weekly clinical oversight of students

L 5 --- Chinle Service Unit Contact Tracing, weekly

L 2 --- preparing for resumption of in-person clinical at UNM Cancer Center Summer 2021
L 4 --- preparing for resumption of in-person clinical practicum at Chinle, AZ Fall 2021

I see these activities as contributing to the CON mission by providing opportunities for undergraduate students to develop excellence and proficiency in clinical practice, and competency in assessment and health promotion. More importantly, these activities involve the students in community engagement, primary prevention, COVID - related education, screening, prevention and outreach to vulnerable populations in New Mexico.

Quality improvement is an integral part of the L 4 and L 5 clinical work that I am involved with in my faculty role. I engage in multiple weekly meetings with partners at the HSC Office of Community Health, NM Department of Health, Chinle Service Unit PHN Supervisors and Leadership, the COPE program and alongside the colleague that I collaborate most closely with, LeeAnna Vargas, to review in a timely manner how our collaborative work is going, revise, adapt and improve practices and communication to ensure optimal partnership and effectiveness are foremost. In the context of the pandemic, our work and need to adapt to shifting circumstances has been paramount. This has been some of the most highly rewarding work that I have done at the College.

Summary of Service Activities:

I am a highly engaged faculty member in a variety of service activities. I am an active member of the CON Diversity, Inclusion, and Equity Committee and the HSC White Coats for Black and Indigenous Lives Education SubCommittee. My role is to collaborate with all committee members and work intentionally to foster the goals of strengthening diversity and inclusion in the undergraduate course delivery and to serve as a liaison from the College to the HSC Programs working on similar initiatives. I am an active member of the statewide NMNEC Diversity and Inclusion Committee. We meet regularly to share ideas and to provide resources for faculty and students across all of the NMNEC partners to strengthen diversity, inclusion, and equity content, values and learning for students and faculty. I am an active member with a project team of the Nurse Education Practice Quality Retention for Veteran Nurses in Primary Care HRSA Grant with several UNM CON faculty members. We are developing opportunities for veteran nursing students to engage in Telehealth and primary care learning opportunities in collaboration with the NM VA Hospital and Gallup Indian Medical Center. I am an active member of the NMNEC Curriculum Committee working collaboratively to evaluate and improve our implementation of the statewide BSN curriculum. I work closely with the Undergraduate Program Director and other faculty to strengthen our primary care content for nursing students. I am an active member of the CON Undergraduate Program Committee, collaborating with faculty to foster faculty development and the highest quality education for our students. I am an avid IPE Champion and collaborate closely with the Director and current CON Liaison to strengthen our IPE offerings and strategy.

TEACHING NARRATIVE

My overall focus in teaching has been on strengthening the quality and opportunities for pre-licensure BSN students to have meaningful, engaging learning experiences in the areas of community health, public health nursing, population health, primary care, interprofessional (IPE) collaboration and prevention-oriented evidence-based practice. Informed by my study and training in experiential approaches to public health nursing and global health education, I have developed revisions and innovations within my didactic and clinical courses to enhance student engagement in community and population-focused local and regional settings. These include experiences with the student-led interprofessional clinic at Albuquerque Heading Home AOC shelter for men experiencing homelessness, a rural health clinical practicum with the Chinle Service Unit (CSU) Public Health Nursing (PHN) Department in the Navajo Nation, the Primary Care TeleECHO clinic, the Storehouse Food Pantry, the African Refugee Women's Group in Albuquerque, Cultural Humility Education with the HSC Center for Native American Health, and outreach with the Mexican Consulate in Albuquerque. One impact of the COVID pandemic has been a marked limitation of face-to-face clinical opportunities for BSN students. I have collaborated closely with my colleague LeeAnna Vargas to strengthen our partnerships with the HSC Office Of Community Health (OCH) and the New Mexico Department of Health (DOH). We designed several new experiences for our L 4 and 5 students in 2020 - 2021 to be able to obtain clinical experience working with a variety of populations and communities.

In collaboration with the Chinle Service Unit (CSU) PHN Department (Navajo Nation) and the Community Outreach and Patient Empowerment (COPE) Program (Gallup, NM), all Level 5 students (Spring 2021) obtained their Certificate in Contact Tracing from John's Hopkin's University and have been working with PHN-led teams from CSU to provide Virtual Contact Tracing (VCT) services for Navajo individuals served by the Chinle Service Unit.

Another curricular enhancement involves the IPE Social Determinants of Health learning activity that is embedded in my Health Care Participant Course for Level 2 students. Whereas in previous years this has been a face-to-face activity with Nursing, Physical Therapy and Occupational Therapy students, in 2021 we revised this and delivered an online version that was very well-received by the students.

Curricular development and innovation for Level 4 students includes the development and clinical oversight for the following:

1) Partnership with the HSC Office of Community Health (OCH) and the NM Department of Aging and Long Term Services (ALTS). Students participated in the Care Calls Initiative, and made scripted telephone outreach calls to older adults and individuals with disabilities throughout New Mexico, to assess, connect with services, and document their eligibility for community benefit services under the Centennial Care Waiver Program. Since February 2021, this activity has shifted to the priority of securing COVID vaccination appointments for this population in collaboration with the NM DOH and the HSC OCH.

2) Partnership with UNM Student Health and Counseling Center (SHAC) and clinical oversight. Level 4 students are obtaining clinical experience by conducting outreach and screening calls to UNM students who have screened positive for COVID-like symptoms on their daily attestations.

Finally, working with Dr. Judy Liesveld and our NMNEC partners, we are launching the first annual statewide NMNEC Disaster Preparedness Education Event on April 9, 2021. Level 2 students from UNM Albuquerque, UNM Valencia and UNM Farmington campuses will participate together in a facilitated interactive virtual learning experience.
